for the 33rd Annual Conference

Counseling & Treating People of Colour An International Perspective In Fort Lauderdale, Florida

HEALTH, MENTAL HEALTH, HIV/AIDS, SUBSTANCE ABUSE, VIOLENCE, EDUCATION are the Major Areas relative to Culture and Race Differences, Geographical area identities, age variance, organizational positions, gender identity, and other factors considered when counseling, treating and working with people of colour. Everyone who works in an agency, organization, community, college/university is encouraged to attend. You will gain knowledge and skills to effectively work with persons of colour from the perspective of whites working with people of a different race and cultural background, persons of colour working with people of colour from different cultures and other identity factors. Understanding race, gender, age and other culture dynamics are necessary in order to individualize the relationship that can lead to an effective outcome.
