

COMBINING THE BEST IN ACADEMIC AND COMMUNITY MEDICINE

Eastern Long Island Hospital joins the Stony Brook Medicine healthcare system

Improving Access to Advanced Medical Care

Stony Brook Eastern Long Island Hospital (SBELIH) joins Stony Brook Medicine to improve access to advanced medical care for residents of the North Fork of Long Island and Shelter Island. Together, we combine the best in academic and community medicine, and will help improve access to specialized medical care for the East End.

Telehealth Program

A planned telehealth program will provide North Fork and Shelter Island residents with direct access to Stony Brook Medicine specialists.

North Fork "Fly Cars"

To improve access to emergency care, Stony Brook Emergency Medical Services provides two "fly cars" on the North Fork with paramedic staffing, for the highest possible level of pre-hospital emergency care.

Clinical Training Site

SBELIH serves as a clinical campus and training site for Stony Brook Medicine, which will help increase the number of physicians, specialists, allied health professionals and nurses on the East End of Long Island.

Together, SBELIH and Stony Brook University Hospital already provide the region's leading behavioral health programs for Long Island. And Stony Brook Medicine provides a psychiatric residency program at SBELIH.

Caring for Our Community

As part of Stony Brook Medicine, Stony Brook Eastern Long Island Hospital will combine compassionate, personalized care with the advanced medical expertise of Long Island's premier academic medical center.

Since 1905

SBELIH is Suffolk County's oldest voluntary hospital, serving the North Fork and Shelter Island since 1905.

90-bed
community hospital

22,000 permanent residents

45,000
summer
residents

SBELIH provides behavioral health programs, medical-surgical services, critical care, and drug and alcohol detoxification and rehabilitation services to 22,000 permanent residents and 45,000 summer residents.

One of two hospitals on Long Island providing skin cancer screenings to all inpatients through the

Mollie Biggane
Melanoma Foundation

Stony Brook
Eastern Long Island
Hospital